

Kitchen & Bath Designer

Are you an individual with a passion for design? Does a career that allows you to use your creative talents to bring your customer's visions to life appeal to you? Do you want to work with an energetic team committed to success? Then this may be just the job you are seeking!

Who are we?

ProSource Wholesale is a one-stop shop for Trade Professionals and their clients who are seeking solutions for their flooring and kitchen and bath projects. Our team of professionals provides support from start to finish, providing design and product options to bring projects to life. We are an established company that has been serving the Phoenix area for over 25 years.

Where you come in!

We are seeking experienced professionals for the position of Kitchen and Bath Designer. This position will delve into project details with our customers, gain an understanding of their vision, and then help them bring that vision to life through design creation and the selection and procurement of product that fits within their budget.

Successful K&B Designers are:

- Highly organized
- Have a strong desire to both design and sell
- Enjoy working with a respected sales team that will support their skills
- Driven by exceeding sales goals
- Extremely proficient with 20/20
- Efficient with designing and selling multiple cabinet lines
- Experienced at working with Trade Professionals and Consumers
- Experienced in making modifications to cabinets and selling design features
- Great at managing K&B projects and keeping accurate records
- Willing to coordinate with installation contractors on final design specifications and product delivery timelines

Qualifications

- Minimum 3 years of kitchen design and sales experience
- Minimum of 2 years of experience creating designs with 20/20 software
- Portfolio demonstrating design skills and ability to use 20/20
- Proficiency with Microsoft Excel and Word and experience using email
- Associate's, or Bachelor's degree in Interior Design, preferred
- Sales skills and project management experience, preferred
- NKBA certification, is a plus

Submission of a design portfolio demonstrating your design and 20/20 skills is required. A Degree in Interior Design is preferred, but not required. Industry certification is a plus. This position also requires proficiency with Microsoft Excel and Word and experience using electronic mail via Outlook. Excellent spelling, grammar, written, verbal, organizational, and problem-solving skills with the ability to communicate professionally with staff and customers in a courteous, tactful, and concise manner is essential.

No phone calls for this position please, submit resume for consideration.

Hiring Company Information:

ProSource is the leading membership wholesale flooring and Kitchen & Bath company in North America with 145+ showrooms in the US and Canada. The combined buying power of these stores enables ProSource to offer our trade professional members the lowest price anywhere on name brand flooring and home improvement products.

While part of this strong growing national network, each showroom is locally owned and independently operated. We are committed to providing the best products and services to our members and to do business with integrity.

Learn more about working for ProSource by visiting our career site: <https://prosourcewholesale.jobs.net/>